

Elementary Level Books for the Fix It Cart

Why stock your Fix It Cart with a selection of repair-related picture books?

*Starting a Fix It Lesson with a whole class read-aloud is one way to foster a culture of repair in the classroom.
For teachers new to repair, a read-aloud can be a gateway into the world of repair.*

Read-alouds to establish a caring classroom community and build a culture of repair:

Ruby's Tools for Making Friends by A. Stott
The One Day House by J. Durango
Albert the Fix-It Man by J. Lord

Read-alouds to launch and extend sewing repair:

Me and the Boss: A Story about Mending and Love by M. Edwards
The Doll Hospital by K. George
30,000 Stitches: The Inspiring Story of the National 9/11 Flag by A. Davis
Golden Threads by S. Del Rizzo

Read-alouds to generate conversation around repair:

Fix That Clock by K. Cyrus
Fireboat: The Heroic Adventures of the John J. Harvey by M. Kalman

Read-alouds to develop an engineering/troubleshooting mindset:

Rosie Revere, Engineer by A. Beaty
Rosie Revere's Big Project Book for Bold Engineers by A. Beaty
Boxitects by K. Smith

Tool Reference Manuals (geared toward middle school and up):

Girls Garage by E. Pilloton
Tools: The Ultimate Guide by J. Waldman
